

Mortgage Builder Software Names Liz Resovsky Vice President, Operations

Longtime team member and industry veteran heads up customer support and product development

Southfield, Michigan, June 9, 2008 –Mortgage Builder Software, the industry-leader in innovative loan origination software (LOS), has announced that longtime team member Liz Resovsky has been promoted to the newly-created post of vice president of Operations. She previously ran the company's customer support department and will continue to manage that critical function in addition to heading up the product development effort, working closely with clients and Mortgage Builder's programmers on customizations and innovative improvements to the company's flagship loan origination software platform.

Resovsky joined Mortgage Builder in 1997 from a Michigan regional mortgage banker where she was in charge of secondary marketing. Prior, she ran operations for a mortgage banking firm, helping build the company from six employees to 300 and preparing its purchase by a national financial services company. Wearing many hats at Mortgage Builder over the years, she was a key component in the company's growth from a dozen clients to over 100 highly satisfied companies today, garnering the industry's most enviable customer retention record among the leading LOS companies. Resovsky remains closely involved with Mortgage Builder's clients, handling queries, calls and emails from them every day.

"The best part of my job is working with clients," Resovsky said. "That won't change in my new capacity, and I am looking forward to working closely with our programmers to make client requests part of future releases of Mortgage Builder."

“Liz Resovsky was part of our core management team during our most important period of growth,” said Keven Smith, Mortgage Builder’s president and CEO. “She will play an even more important role during our next big phase, as we introduce more innovation and integrate more services into our platform. She’s an essential component to both our past and future success stories.”

Resovsky will continue to work from the Southfield, Michigan headquarters. A Michigan native, she resides with her family in Roseville, MI.
